One more look back

Last week, we shared the first part of our E3 2019 recap. We looked at photos from the Xbox Ambassadors Meet & Greet at the Century City Microsoft Store, and talked about the epic experience of Xbox FanFest. If you haven't had a chance to read it, start there!

This week, we wanted to highlight some of our favorite social media posts from community members who attended E3 and those who followed along from home. We'll also look at the different chances you had to take home a little piece of E3 even if you weren't able to travel there in person!

E3 2019

Bringing our community along with us

It’s important to us that all Xbox Ambassadors can participate in the events we attend in some way. We set up a few different activities to spread the E3 magic, regardless of where you were following along from!

E3 Mission

In the days leading up to the Xbox E3 Briefing, you may have noticed a new self-reported mission pop up on the website. By checking out our E3 blog and reporting it via the Missions page, you received sweepstakes tickets that you could use toward an Xbox FanFest Secret Gear Backpack drawing!

Xbox FanFest Secret Gear Backpack Sweepstakes

You may have heard of the legendary swag bag that Xbox FanFest attendees receive. This coveted bag included a Sea of Thieves backpack, a pair of RIG 800LX headphones, t-shirts, and even a limited edition Xbox Ambasasdors FanFest coin.

Congratulations to Fearless Reign7 and Xscape for winning the sweepstakes on our website for this epic prize! If you missed the sweepstakes window on the website, we gave everyone a chance to win one of three backpacks on Twitter! Congratulations to @DemetrianMoore, @Christyna_64, and @CodeHelixGaming who were randomly selected to win the FanFest Secret Gear Backpacks via our Twitter sweepstakes!

Unsure what Xbox FanFest is? Check out this page and then read about our experience at this amazing event!

Instagram Highlights

While the Xbox Ambassadors community team was attending E3, we posted frequent updates to our Instagram Stories to make it easy to keep up with our adventures. Whether we were attending the Xbox E3 Briefing, EA Play, the Meet & Greet, Xbox FanFest, or the E3 show floor, we documented it with photos and videos! If you didn’t have a chance to see it, we’ve saved those stories to our E3 2019 highlight on Instagram. Check it out!

SURPRISE: Xbox Ambassadors E3 2019 Pin & Coin Giveaway!

Remember the self-reported E3 mission we mentioned? We took a look at the list of Ambassadors who completed this mission and randomly selected 50 to receive our E3 2019 Xbox Ambassadors pin and limited edition FanFest coin! Keep an eye on your inbox, you'll be hearing from us if you were selected to win.

Until next time, E3!

There was no shortage of magic at E3 2019, and we're glad we had a chance to experience it first-hand alongside those in attendance. Even if you couldn't make it to LA, we hope you followed along with us on social media and checked out the activities we had available on the website!

See you next time!
